The Old Bazaar In Cairo

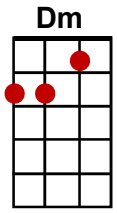
(Clinton Ford and George Chisholm)

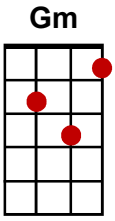
Dm Gm Dm
Sandbags, windbags, camels with the hump,
Gm Dm
Fat girls, thin girls, some a little plump,
Gm
Slave girls sold here, fifty bob a lump,
A7 Dm
In the old bazaar in Cairo.

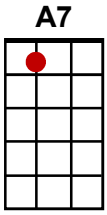
Dm Gm Dm
Brandy, shandy, beer without a froth,
Gm Dm
Braces, laces, a candle for the moth,
Gm
Bet you'd look a dolly in an old loin cloth,
A7 Dm
In the old bazaar in Cairo.

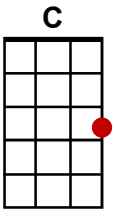
C F
You can buy most any…anything,
C F
Thin bulls, fat cows, a little bit of string,
D Gm
You can purchase anything you wish,
A7
A clock, a dish, and something for your Auntie Fannie

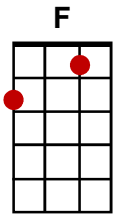
Dm Gm Dm
Harem, scarem, what d'ya think of that,
Gm Dm
Bare knees, striptease, dancing on the mat,
Gm
Oompa, oompa, that's enough of that,
A7 Dm
In the old bazaar in Cairo.

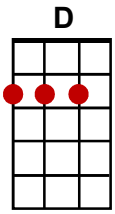










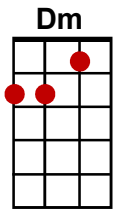


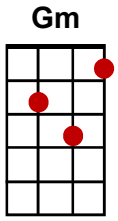
Cont'd

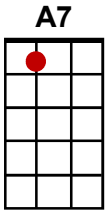
The Old Bazaar In Cairo (Cont'd)

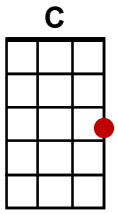
Dm Gm Dm
Rice pud, very good, what's it all about,
Gm Dm
Made it in a kettle and they couldn't get it out,
Gm
Everybody took a turn to suck it through the spout,
A7 Dm
In the old bazaar in Cairo.

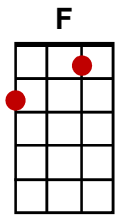
Dm Gm Dm
Mamadan, Ramadan, everything in style,
Gm Dm
Genuine, beduine, carpet with a pile,
Gm
Funny little odds and ends floating down the Nile,
A7 Dm
From the old bazaar in Cairo.

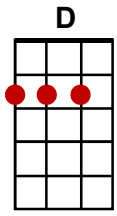
C F
You can buy most any…anything,
C F
Sheep's eyes, sand pies, a watch without a spring,
D Gm
You can buy a pomegranate too,
A7
A water bag, a little bit of hokey pokey.












Dm Gm Dm
Yashmacs, pontefracts, what a strange affair,
Gm Dm
Dark girls, fair girls, some with ginger hair,
Gm
The rest of this is funny but the censor cut it there,
A7 Dm
In the old bazaar in Cairo.
